DR. AYER'S LUNG AND THROAT INSTITUTE,

No. 30 WEST FOURTH STREET.

The following letter is from one of our well known merchants. Whatever he indorese must be of aterling value. It is well worth reading:

Cincinnatri, February 13, 1859.

About a month ago I called at Dr. Ayer's "Throat and Lang Institute," 30 West Fourthetreet, for treatment for Tousilitis and Chronic Inflammation of the Throat. The tousils and uvula (or palate) were so much enlarged that there seemed to be but one course to pursue, and that was to cus themost; this I had been told by other physicians, who had also candidly told me they could not cure me. Dr. Ayer made careful examination and pronounced excision undecessary, and treacrived Medicated Inhalation and topical applications, with general treatment, and the result is a Pursurer varurant. The inflammation has been allayed, and the tousils and palate reduced to their natural size and position. I now have no abreviated a proposition of the course of time throat, and resulting to minound Br. Ayer as a skillful and competent physician in his speciality, and worthy of all confidence. His mode of freatment to rational, pleasant, and certainly in my case successful, and I have every reason to believe the Potor is equally successful in all other cases while I have been under treatment at the institute.

SINGULAR DEATH OF A CHILD BY DROWNING. About 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, a little girl about three years of age, daughter of Mr. James Wilson, who resides at No. 212 Vine street, between Fifth and Sixth, was drowned under the following circumstances: The child was playing by a tub of water under the hydrant, and, losing her balance, fell in. Kingel says he got the money from a couple of men who left the city yesterday on the steamer Liberty.

CINCINNATI ABBOAD .- With deep interest we watch the progressive steps of our Merchants, Mechanics, and Professional men.

The real greatness of our city has been achieved by indomitable perseverance - the go-ahead-a-tiveness of men-live men-of such men as Nicholas Longworth and Miles Greenwood. Indeed, we should say no two in the whole West have done more to make IT GREAT, at home or abroad.

A friend, just returned from a tour in the old world, says :

In Liverpool and Manchester, Birmingham and London, in Paris, and other manufacturing districts, the name of Miles Greenwood is as familiar as here; while that of Longworth is equally familiar in Bordeaux, Burgundy and Beaujolais-Garonne and Rohne - and all through the Wine districts on the Rhine.

Another Deed of Blood-- A Man Shot

Down and Murdered in the Streets. About eleven o'clock last evening, a dreadful murder was perpetrated in front of the Telegraph House, on Western row, Hear Ninth street. A young man named Richard Mahone, well known in this community, was standing at the bar of the house drinking, and singing. Some one called him to the door, and he went out. The individual who called him was then heard to say, "I can sing as good a song as you, and if you put down your cane, I can whip you." Immediately after this remark a pistol shot was heard, and on those who were in the house going to the door, they found Mahone lying on the ground weltering in his blood. Upon examination it was discovered that the ball had penetrated the back, under his shoulder blade, and lodged against or near the breast bone. He died in about five squates after being shot. Here are the stories in regard to the identity of the perpetrator: An eye witness says that Mahone was shot by a young man named William Adams. But before Mahone died, he said he had been shot by John Clawson. It is generally known that the wife of Clawson has proved incontinent, and is now an finnate of a house of ill-fame. It is said that Clawson accuses Mahone of butraying him under the guise of friendship. Mahone was about 27 years of writing this article no arrests had been made. LATER. -Since writing the above we learn that John Clawson, and Charles, his brother, were arrested by officers Ackley and Myers, at the corner of John and Clinton streets, soon after the murder, and Wm. Clawson, another brother, at some other point. Adams was also arrested at his mother's house on Ninth street. His mother and wife were fanning him at the time of the arrest. He appeared to be very drunk.

It appears that after Mahone was shot, he staggered to the corner of Western Row and Eighth street, to the drug store of Chandler, Ross & Co. On entering, he exclaimed, "Boys, I'm shot." Dr. Wm. Hunter, the dentist, and Dr. Symms Moore, happened to be present; they placed him on a sofa and sponged his wound. Dr. Hunter said to him, "Before your breath leaves you, for God's sake say who shot you."

Mahone replied, "Twas John Clawson did it." He lived but a few moments after making his statement. The Coroner is holding an inquest at the time this article is being written. It appears from the testimony that all the parties arrested were present at the time of the murder. Mrs. Clawson came up to see the body, but was refused admittance. She acknowledged that Mahone had improper intercourse with her, the world. She said he had a ring of hers and her daguer rectype on his person, and that she would like to procure them. She appeared to be in great tribulation, and wept bitterly. Mahone has wife now living in St. Louis.
